

Over 750 semi-truck loads of fresh fruits and vegetables are wastefully discarded every year.

That's 2 semi-truck loads of food thrown away every day that could be given to hungry children and their families throughout America

Who:

3,000 businesses/people rescuing 30 million pounds of fresh fruits and vegetables from being thrown away every year, making available 23,076,923 meals for 50,000 impoverished families and 150,000 hungry children.

What:

Rescue, transport and distribute 30 million pounds of nutritional produce every year that would have been hauled to the dump.

Where:

In Nogales, Arizona the produce will be rescued from the produce sheds and taken to a Food Bank where it will be made available for all the charities in Arizona and throughout America who are feeding the hungry.

Why:

We can stop nutritional fruits and vegetables from going to waste and make them available to thousands of hungry children in America who are in desperate need of this produce.
